FRID. II.
ET SOPH.
EPITHALAN.

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

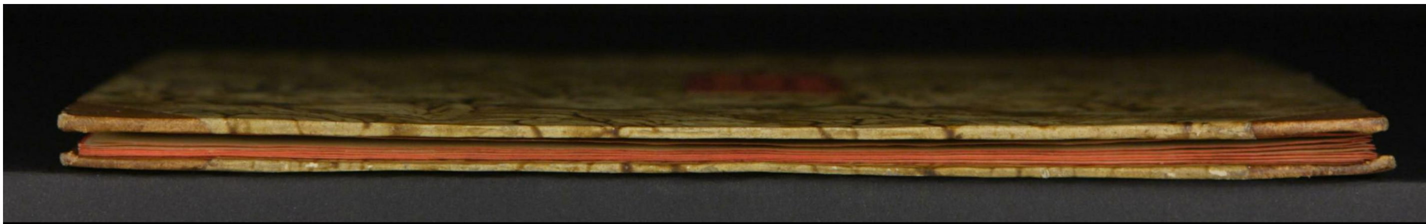

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

35, - 175 - 4°
(L N bis 282) DA Bat

BIBLIOTHECA REGIA HAFNIENSIS

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

FRIDERICO II.

DANIÆ, NORVEGIÆ, SCLAVORVM GOTHORVMQVE REGI SereniſS. &c. Sleſuuigiæ, Holſatiæ, Stormariæ & Teutomarſiæ principi illuſtriſs. Oldeburgi item & Delmenhorſti comiti generoſiſsimo.

ET

SOPHIAE,

ILLVSTRISSIMI PRINCIPIS ET DOMINI D. VDALRICI DVCIS MEGAPOLENSIS, PRINCIPIS HENEtorum & Obetritarum, Comitis Suerini, Domini Roſtochienſium & Stargardienſium FILIÆ illuſtriſsimæ, & Reginæ DANIÆ deſignatæ.

EPITHALAMIVM

NATHANIS CHYTRÆI ILLVſtriſs: Princip. Megap. in Academia Roſtochienſi poëticæ profeſſoris.

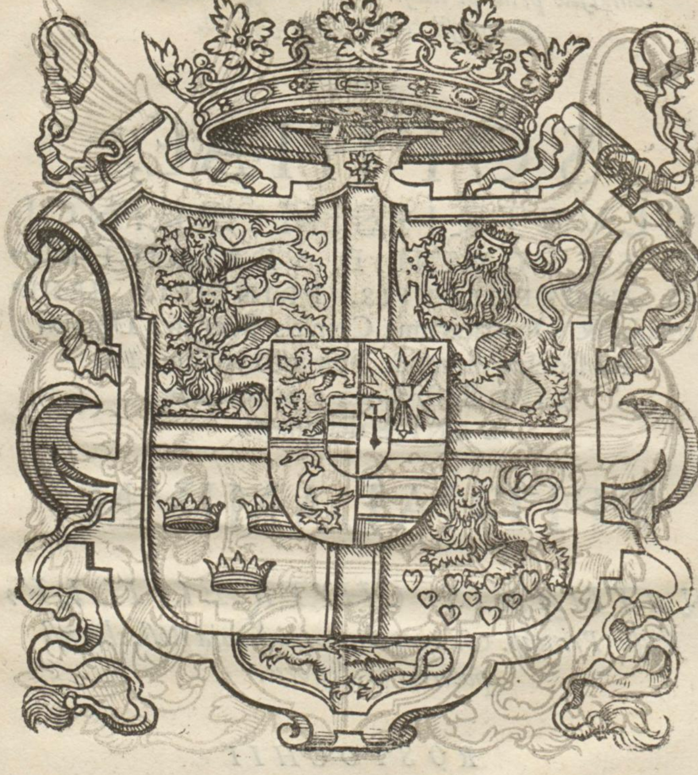

ROSTOCHII

EXCVDEBAT IACOBVS LVCIVS.

ANNO M. D. LXXII.

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

SERENISSIMO-
RVM REGVM DANIÆ
.INSIGNIA.

BIBLIOTHECA REGIA HAFNIENSIS

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

ILLVSTRISSIMO-
RVM DVCVM MEGAPO-
LENSIVM INSIGNIA.

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

FRIDERICO II, DANIÆ, NORVVEGIÆ, SCLAVORVM, GOTHORVMQVE REGI SERENISS. &c.

ET

SOPHIÆ ILLVSTRISS. PRINCIPIS ET DOMINI, D. VDALRICI, DVCIS MEgapolenſis, Filiæ Illuſtriſsimæ, & Reginæ deſignatæ.

EPITHALAMIVM

IAM tandem ſperata diu lux aurea cœlo
Extulerat radios, qua ſe pulcherrima Nymphe,
Nymphe animo formaq́ potens, & ſtirpis auitæ
Laudibus, è patria Danorum inferret in oras,
Ingreſſura ſui ſuprema palatia regis:
Acceptura etiam regalem à rege coronam:
Et regis ſubitura toros regina iugales.

Ergo,

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Ergo, Iouis monitu, ſupera Cyllenius arce
Labitur, & purum, ſine nube, per aëra vectus,
Muſis & Phœbo loca conſecrata petiuit:
Aſcenſu loca difficili, & mortalibus ægris
Inuia, ni paucos Muſæq; & Phœbus amarent,
Quîs datur inuicto tandem huc penetrare labore.
Sed pronum hoc ſuperis iter eſt: caducifer ergo,
Vel dicto citius, Phœbo iuga ſacra, piasq;
Muſarum ſedes & amœna vireta tenebat.
Aſtanti arriſere Deæ: mox omnia circum
Effulſere nouo florentia prata colore:
Et paßim volucrum reſonant auiaria cantu:
Cunctaq; Palladio latè complentur odore.
Aſt illum in ſacros nemorum abduxere receſſus
Aonides: vbi non vllam perpeſſa ſenectam,
Non æſtum ſolis, non duræ frigora brumæ
Laurus erat, ſolij pulcra immortalis honore:
Quam ſubter nitido lucebant flore amaranthi.
Hîc igitur diuûm interpres, cingente corona
Pieridum, cari exponit mandata parentis,
Atq; ait. O Iouis ætherei verißima Muſæ
Pignora, virtutum ſacra in præconia natæ:
Atq; ideo à teneris aulæ cœleſtis alumnæ:
Doctricesq; hominum: & vitæ morumq; magiſtræ:

Quæq́ adeo laudesq́ Dei præclaraq́ facta
Heroum æterno memores committitis æuo.
Numne etiam veſtros rumor peruenit ad aures?
Vt regum ſacra progenies, rex inclytus ille,
Inter magnanimos rex inclytus Europæos,
Scania cui, Daniq́ omnes, atq́ vltima Thule,
Cui mare fluctiuagum, cui Balthicus Helleſpontus,
Cimbrorumq́ ſimul regio ditiſsima paret,
Rex FRIDERICVS, amet regali è ſtirpe puellã,
Patris VDALRICI natam, Megalepolis alta
Quem colit, atq́ Heruli veteres, & Vandala tellus,
Hîc vbi latiuagos fortis Germania fines
Aſpicit: & ſegetum plenos diſterminat agros
Varnus alens multos argutæ vocis olores.
Hæc SOPHIA, æquales inter pulcherrima: ſexũ
Ingenio, & teneros varijs virtutibus annos
Exuperans: ſummæ cui rara modeſtia ſtirpi,
Et formæ pudor admixtus, grauitasq́ lepori,
Et Charis arcano nectens hæc omnia vinclo,
Eximias inter peperit decus Heroinas,
Namq́ vbi cum genitrice ſua caroq́ parente,
Bis ſeptem vix nata annos, in regna veniret
Danica: (mater enim de Chriſto nomen adepti
Eximij regis ſoror eſt) illamq́ videres

Rex

Rex FRIDERICE, trahens imo ſuſpiria corde,
Atq; animo ſtimulos, fibriſq; incendia voluens;
Dixiſti: ô fauſtum iuuenem, virguncula talis
Cui data nupta, ſui ſimilem mox edere prolem
Incipiet: claris pater vnde nepotibus auctus,
Progeniem ſtirpemq; ſuam florere videbit.
Nec plura: at dum ſe nequit illam, explere, tuendo,
Atq; ſimul viuas audit redditq; loquelas:
Blandus amor ſe virgineis abſcondit ocellis:
Vnde nouos regi laqueos & tela pararet.
Quîs etiam dulci mentem rex ſaucius ictu,
Cum SOPHIA thalamo ſeſe vincire iugali
Percupidum oſtendit. placuit laudabile patri
Propoſitum; placuit matri: ſic fœdere certo
Iunxerunt fidas hæc in connubia dextras.
Sic rex, quod rarum eſt, non fretus imagine picta:
Nec ſua committens mutis ſuſpiria chartis;
Ipſe fuit formæ inſpector, morumq; probator,
Atq; animi teſtis, fallaci teſte remoto.
Et nunc illa dies, longè optatiſsima votis
Multorum, ſolemnis adeſt, pater optimus ille
Qua celeri rate, tot Ducibus comitantibus, oras
Arctoas petet, (vberibus qua Dania campis,
Dania clara opibus regnoq; inſignis auito

Pandi-

Panditur) auſpicio felici atq; omine dextro,
Regnanti in Danis iuueni vt coniungat amatam
Reginam, thalamoq; ambos deuinciat vno.
Quando igitur regi, placido rex Iupiter ore;
Reginæ quando Iuno regina beatum
Coniugium annuerunt: vos ô clariſsima Muſæ
Numina regalem mecum contendite in vrbem.
Iupiter ipſe iubet: faciles ite ergo ſorores:
Ite Deæ: velutiq; olim connubia Cadmi
Hermionesq; nouo celebraſtis lætæ hymenæo:
Sic FRIDErici etiam, SOPHIÆ ſic dicite tædis
Carmina, maiori qui vos dignantur honore,
Quam potuit Cadmus. quis enim dignatus alumnos
Eſt veſtros tanto quanto FRIDERicus amore?
Ille etenim vobis quæ ſtruxerat atria quondam:
Quæ dederat pater, illius rex optimus æui:
Vſq; adeo nunc ornauit, ſic annua adauxit
Munera; vt Hafniadū Schola quā ditiſsima, primas
Felſineo vix iam Rheno concedat & Arno,
Medoacoq; ipſi. quid commemorare neceſſe eſt?
Quantus VDALRICVS veſtri ſit tutor honoris;
Quanto Varniadum ſtudio excolat ille Roſetum;
Balthica Palladio quod litora replet odore.

Sic Ma-

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Sic Maia genitus. ſed eum pia turba ſororum
Sic contra eſt affata. patris mandata lubentes
Accipimus: quin & placidè comitamur euntem.
Tu modo præcede, & noto te tramite ſiſte.
Hæc vbi dicta, comis ſerta impoſuere Camœnæ
Laurea, purpureis intertextis amaranthis:
Dulciſonaq; chely arrepta, citharisq; canoris:
Cum duce feſtinum rapuere per aëra greſſum.

Vrbs eſt tranquillo longe celeberrima portu,
Vrbs animis opibusq; potens, regnoq; vetuſto,
Danorumq; caput: populos vbi mercibus auget
Balthicus Oceanus: quamq; æquo lumine Phœbus
Aſpicit & doctis ſedem hîc concedit alumnis.
Ad latus illius Pariis ſuffulta columnis
Stat domus innumeris, conſiſtunt limine poſtes
Aureolo, & nitidis laquearia ſplendida gemmis.
Centum intus thalami, centumq; cubilia puro
Murice ſtrata patent, auroq; ornata coruſco.
Inq; illis aula eſt, regum delecta receſſu,
In quadrum ſpacioſa fluens, vbi plurima menſas
Regali dape magnificè, & crateribus aureis,
Conſtructas, circum mantilia ſtrata tegebant.
Has rex & reges regumq; propagine nati

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Cingebant proceres: exq; omnibus heroinæ
Delectæ: inter quas ceu ſidus amabile noſtra
Fulgebat SOPHIA, illuſtri belliſsima vultu.
Huc igitur duce Mercurio, Phœboq; ſorores
Ingreſſæ, ante ſacram FRIDErici regis, et almam
Reginæ faciem, aſtiterunt: miratus earum
Inceſſumq; grauem, faciemq; habitumq; ſerenum;
Eſſe Deas vidit rex inclytus: ergo paterni
Indicio ſceptri præſtare ſilentia cunctos
Ipſe iubet, placidoq; illas vltro aſpicit ore.
Illæ autem flexêre genu, vultuq; modeſto
(Circumſtant proceres, admiranturq; canentes)
Talia fuderunt, alterna carmina voce.

Salue ô progenies diui FRIDERice parentis,
O decus & columen Danorum, & gloria ſtirpis
Cimbrigenæ: cui præſtantem virtute puellam
Iungit auis, atauisq; potens, & ſceptriger heros
Fortis VDALRICVS, carum Megalepolis ora
Quem colit, obſeruatq; ducem, carumq; parentem.
Salue iterum FRIDerice, tibi noua ſerta paramus.
Vix etenim quiſquam nemoris decerpere fructus
Dignior Aönij: tua quam pulcherrima coniunx;
Et tu magnorum flos optatiſsime regum.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Tu quo-

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Tu quoq; reginæ ſoboles clariſsima matris,
Quæ, commune genus, proauûm cum rege recenſes,
Nympha potens, & gemmiferis ornata coronis.
Sis felix, regiq; tuo diuturna voluptas,
Quam turbent nullis venientia ſæcula ſæclis.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Iupiter ipſe tibi radio FRIDERICE ſereno
Naſcenti arriſit: ſceptrum, aureolamq; corouam
Pollicitus iuueni: arriſit quoq; ſidere Mauors
Sanguineo, armauitq; manus in prælia, ſpondens
Mox tibi Dithmarſos felici clade domandos.
Quin Cytherea potens thalamos firmare iugales,
Ipſa tibi Nymphæ cor fauſto accendit amore:
Ipſa tui Nympham totam inflammauit amore.
Felicem FRIDERICE tui quoq; ſidera curam
Suſcipiunt, regisq; fauent conſtanter honori.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

At SOPHiam gremio Pietas excepit: adultam
Erudijt ſacra Relligio: mox aurea Iuno
Et Pallas, Charitumq; chorus placidiſsimus, illam
Certatim excoluêre ſuis, fauſto omine, donis.
Quin & adhuc charam faciles comitantur alumnam

Muneribusq́ beant varÿs, ſemperq́ beabunt.
Aſpice quantus honos generoſo effulgeat ore:
Gratia quæ vultus: quam mitis flammula blandis
Fulguret ex oculis: grauitas matura iuuentam
Vt ſuperet: maieſtati coniuncta venuſtas
Cunctorum vt mentes in ſe conuertat & ora.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Maiores FRIDerice tuos, magnumq́ parentem,
Quid celebrare opus eſt, quorum celeberrima virtus,
Et bonitas nunquam venturo abolebitur æuo.
Inprimis pater ille ſuum de nomine CHRISTI
Nomen habens, ſummos inter laus maxima reges,
Mente manuq́ fuit. patriæ pater optimus oræ,
Virtuti finem nullum, metamq́ labori
Qui ſtatuit nullam, totisq́ hoc viribus egit,
Vt genus humanum meritis cumularet: opemq́
Turbatis ferret magno molimine rebus.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Quid patrē SOPhiæ laudabimus VDALRicū,
Egregium virtute ducem; qui regis imago
Siderei, bonitate ſua eſt, vultuq́ ſereno.
Quacunq́ incedit, bonitas comitatur euntem,

Caſtaq́ Sophroſyne, gladioq́ Aſtræa nitenti
Armata, & regum firmans Clementia ſceptrum.
Aſtat cana Fides, fraudisq́ ignara doloſæ,
Atq́ adeo in cunctis verax Conſtantia rebus.
Sit felix, viuatq́ diu clariſsimus heros,
Connubium & natæ felix, regesq́ nepotes,
Canicie venerandus auus, viridiq́ ſenecta,
Cernat, & aſtriferum ſerò conſcendat olympum.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Nec matrem FRIDErice tuam, rex optime, fas
Negligere: illa Dei fuit vt clariſsima donis; (eſt
Munus & ipſa Dei, fuluo precioſius auro:
Sic quoq́ DOROThea diuinum nomen adepta eſt;
Nomen & omen habens. nam te FRIDERice ſe-
Extulit in lucem partu, fratresq́ potentes: (cundo
Quin etiam natas patriæ bonitatis alumnas,
Et ſummis nuptas ducibus. ſalue optima mater,
Et ſoror, & coniux, ſocrusq́, & filia regum:
Et nati thalamis è cœli deſuper arce
Læta faue, regesq́ etiam ſperare nepotes
Incipe, nam nullo ſtirps regia deſinet æuo.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Nec SOPhiæ mater clara ELIſabetha relinqui
Plane indicta poteſt: decus ELISABetha mariti
Eximium: pietate potens, cultuq; verendi
Numinis; ingenio prior omnibus heroinis,
Quas vel noſtra tulit, vel poſtera proferet ætas.
Nam quæ ſit morum grauitas, prudentia quanta,
Atq; adeo in cunctis ſolers induſtria rebus:
Hæc alio memoranda loco. ſalue inclyta, ſalue
ELISABETHA tui ſpecioſa corona mariti:
Et gentis tutela tuæ: virtutis amatrix:
Qua uiua iniectos ſcelerata licentia frenos
Sentiet impatiens: & diſciplina feroces
Compeſcet: reddetq; bono ſua præmia ciui.
Salue iterum, tua te ſequitur pulcherrima proles,
Virtute, ingenio, bonitate, & moribus aureis.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Felix illa dies, & nox felicior illa,
DOROThea in thalamos regis qua ingreſſa iugales
Te nobis FRIDERICE dedit, gentiq; tuorum,
Et SOPHIÆ inprimis noſtræ, cui fœdere iunctus
Perpetuo, donec tandem caput induat albam
Caniciem, viue ad ſeram ſine lite ſenectam.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Fortu-

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Fortunata dies, nox fortunatior illa,
ELISABETHA ſuo qua felix iuncta marito,
Tam pulchram, illuſtrem, fortunatamq́ puellam
Edidit in lucem, tibi quæ FRIDErice placeret,
Et thalami comes vna tui, vitæq́ beatæ,
Viueret innumeros tecum feliciter annos.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Pace nihil melius, nihil exoptatius orbi,
Marte nihil peius, nihil exitioſius orbi eſt,
Marte malo. nam ſunt gemini, quorum alter vbiq;
Et hominum peſtis: patriæ populator: agrorum
Pernicies: ſæpe innocuo quoq; ſanguine gaudens.
Alter præſidium patriæ templisq́, ſcholisq́:
Confugiumq́ bonis: infandi criminis vltor.
Hunc igitur FRIdericus amet, cũ forte neceſſe eſt:
Illum auerſetur: quin pacis ad ocia pronus,
Exigat innocuam ſine cæde, & ſanguine vitam.
Nomine ſic rebusq́ ipſis, FRIDERICE, deinceps
Diues eris pacis, ſupremo diues honore.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Regum illuſtre decus Sapientia dicta latinis,
Quæ Græcis Sophia eſt, rectæ rationis alumna:

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Quæ ſint, quæ fuerint, quæ mox ventura trahantur
Cuncta videns: veriq́; vias penetrare laborans:
Vnaq́; concedens felicis gaudia vitæ,
Si præſit populo monitis parere volenti.
Hanc SOPhiæ indicio ſemper FRIdericus amabit,
Et colet. à recti nunquam deflectere norma
Sic poterit: ſceptrumq́; ſuum ſine labe tenebit,
Sic poterit rex eſſe ſui, rex eſſe ſuorum.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Felices ambo, & felici ſidere nati,
Coniunctiq́; toris genialibus omine dextro.
Ipſa etenim cœli facies, & tempora veſtris
Arrident thalamis: quin veſtro mitis honori
Indulget natura parens. magnum aſpice ſolem,
Solem oculum mundi. nunquid non ſerius ille
Nunc oritur, citiusq́; ſuis ſeſe occulit vndis?
Vt diuturna feras felicis gaudia noctis.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Iam paßim reuireſcit humus beneolentib⁹ herbis:
In varios conuertuntur circum omnia flores:
Spicea ſerta gerens, atq́; omnigeno prouentu,
Optima meßis adeſt: quam pleno copia cornu

Inſequitur: pulſata terit magna area fruges:
Atq; adeo in veſtros conſpirant omnia honores:
Diuitijsq; nouis veteres cumulare laborant.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Ergo tuam toto, flagrans, complectere corde
Rex SOPhiam, & ſignis gaude, ominibusq; beatis.
Naturæ quæ lege ſoror tibi pœne fuiſſet,
Hanc tibi reginam tua rex FRIDErice voluntas,
Conſortemq; tori diuinæ copula legis,
Et commune genus iunxit, formæq; venuſtas,
Atq; amor inijciens nexas adamante cathenas.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Tu quoq; læta tuo SOPHIA optatiſſima regi,
Pone modum lachrymis, nec te iactura paternæ
Sollicitet gentis: non matris cura relictæ.
Hæc etiam regio patriam tibi præbet amicam:
Hîc ſtirpis pars ampla tuæ eſt, à matre vetuſtum
Vnde genus trahis: hîc ſeries longiſſima regum:
Maiores quos eſſe tuos rex ipſe fatetur,
Pœne tibi frater communis origine ſtirpis:
Quin etiam plus quàm frater mox deinde futurus,
Cum dare complexus, & blanda iterare licebit

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Baſia, vel vero quod baſia vincat amore.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Lenta velut vitis ramoſas implicat vlmos:
Pampineaq́ coma, multisq́ grauata racemis
Emicat, & cunctos iſtac oblectat euntes:
Sic tu nixa tuo, ſed ſuauis ſarcina, regi,
Progeniem veſtri, ceu pignus amabile, lecti;
Quæq́ pudicitiam matris ſimili indicet ore;
Quæq́ ſit & vinclum, & teſtis communis amoris;
Diſcutiatq́ ſuo curarum nubila riſu;
Produces: regiq́ tuo, patriq́ voluptas,
Amborum ad ſeros extendes tempora canos.
Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu.

Sic Muſæ: & cum ſe perfunctas munere iuſſo,
Officijq́ ſui partes impleſſe putarent:
Submiſſo grauiter vultuq́, & poplite flexo
Egreſſæ, liquêre domos, & regia tecta,
Quas deſiderium procerum haud vulgare ſecutũ eſt.
Nec mora tranquillo è pelago Nereides almæ,
Phocarum latis humeris dorſoq́ ſedentes,
Lætiſonis cecinere modis: Tritones aduncis
Quin etiam conchis hymenæum ad lucida cœli
Sidera tollebant, miſſosq́ ad ſidera plauſus.

Annue

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Annue propitio tædis Deus optime vultu,
Et veluti thalamo rex & regina beato
Iunguntur: ſic cum Danis Germania vinclo
Vnita æterno, ſtabili coaleſcat amore.
Et quamuis mare fluctiuomis interſtrepat vndis:
Gentem vtramq; tamen concordia fœdere nectat
Vnanimi: quod nec ſæuo Mars turbidus enſe;
Nec fera ſeditio; nec opum væſana libido;
Non vlla annorum ſeries aut tempora ſoluant.

FINIS.

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]

Early European Books, Copyright © 2012 ProQuest LLC.
Images reproduced by courtesy of The Royal Library, Copenhagen.
LN bis 282 [35,-175 4°]